PRESIDENT'S REPORT

College has opened this year with an attendance of 209. There are 59 Freshmen; 9 new students have entered with advanced standing from other colleges. This is the largest number of undergraduates Haverford has ever received, and all accommodations are filled at the present time.

On First month 16, 1920, ex-President Isaac Sharpless, a member of this Board, died at his home on the College grounds. At a special meeting of the Board, held First month 21, the following minute was adopted:

MINUTE ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE CORPORATION OF HAVERFORD COLLEGE, FIRST MONTH 21, 1920

In the Eleventh month, 1916, in accepting the resignation of Isaac Sharpless as President, we attempted a summary of the results of the molding influence of his great personality on Haverford and Haverfordians through the forty-one years of his association with the College, and expressed the hope that he might have many years of well-earned leisure to prosecute the studies he loved, and that as a clear thinker, wise counselor and scholarly writer he might long continue to serve Haverford and the larger community which recognized his leadership. That hope has, in point of time, had but meager fulfilment. In a little over two years since the relinquishment of his active duties as President, death claimed him on the 16th of this month, and thus terminated forty-four years of active service to the College. He has been regularly at our meetings, including the one held at the College over two months ago, when, in addition to the Board meeting, he attended two committee meetings before it, the dinner with the Faculty following, then a meeting of the Executive Committee, and after that continued in informal discussion with his friends. This was the last time he was with us, and although visibly weakened by the heart trouble to which he has succumbed, he showed continually his characteristic solicitude for Haverford's highest welfare and was throughout the tiring series of meetings the wise, genial man whose memory we shall always cherish with affection.

Most of the members of this Board were his pupils, to whom he never ceased to be the beloved and much respected master. We found that those qualities which commanded our high regard for him as a teacher made him a most admirable co-worker. He was just, simple, sincere, wise, tolerant, a keen judge of men, unswerving in following the right as he saw it; never insistent that his plans should be followed if they did not commend themselves to others; never sparing himself when there was work for him to do. Devoutly religious, without narrowness, he was an admirable interpreter and exemplar of a high type of Christianity. He was a delightful companion, dispensing from the rich storehouse of his mind shrewd, humorous and kindly comment on men and events. For the privilege of having known him intimately we are profoundly grateful, and we extend to his family our most sincere sympathy in their great bereavement.

Richard Mott Gummere, of the Class of 1902, was elected a member of the Board in Tenth month, 1919.

The elective courses in English literature, formerly conducted by Professor Francis B. Gummere, have been conducted during the past year by the following visiting lecturers, whose services have been much enjoyed by the College community: Christopher Morley (1910), of the Evening Public Ledger; John S. P. Tatlock, of Stanford University; Frank Aydelotte, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; E. K. Broadus, of the University of Alberta; James Holly Hanford, of the University of North Carolina; G. R. Elliott, of Bowdoin College, and Austin K. Gray, of Jesus College, Cambridge.

At the Fifth month meeting appointment was made of Walter Swain Hinchman (Haverford, A.B., 1900; A.M., 1901; Harvard, A.B., 1901) as the first Francis Barton Gummere Professor of English. Since 1906 W. S. Hinchman has been head of the Department of English at Groton School, Massachusetts. He has studied abroad and has written extensively upon educational and literary subjects.

D. P. Lockwood, Associate Professor of Latin, has been made Librarian. Professor Rayner W. Kelsey has been granted leave of absence for the year 1920-21. Thomas K. Brown, Jr., Assistant Professor of German, having resigned in Ninth month, 1919, his classes were conducted by Walter A. Hildreth, A.M., throughout the year. In Fifth month, 1920, the Board appointed John A. Kelly Instructor in German for 1920-21. Edgar B. Graves (Haverford, 1919) has been appointed Instructor in Physics and Joseph D. White (Haverford, 1920), Assistant in Chemistry. With these exceptions noted, there have been no changes in the Faculty of the College during the past year.

For the current year plans have been made for the participation of all our students in some form of organized athletics, in the hope that the physical conditions of all concerned may be permanently benefited. Under Professor James A. Babbitt's oversight and control an adequate staff of coaches and instructors has been engaged, and a serious effort will be made to train and develop in each branch of sport those individuals who need or desire physical development. Our playing fields are sufficiently large to enable us to handle more men in this way than would be possible at most institutions. If the experiment proves successful, Haverford will have a definite place for athletics in the program of all its students.

The past year is memorable for the formation of the Alumni Advisory Council of seven members and the beginning of its co-operation with the Board of Managers. The existence of this Council, with one of its members sitting upon invitation with the Board, provides for a healthy share in the sense of responsibility for the welfare of the College, and for the realization of its ideals. The Board and the Council alike were impressed a year ago with the expediency of providing at once a larger endowment for the increase of Faculty salaries. During the last autumn preparations were made to bring this matter before all the matriculates and friends of the College. A committee was formed, of which a member of the Board is chairman, and an office was opened at the College for the transaction of the necessary correspondence. It was thought that $500,000 was the minimum amount of new endowment funds which should be sought. The major part of this sum has been pledged, with the helpful support of the General Education Board, and it is confidently expected that the sum desired will be completed during the next few months. In the belief that Haverfordians everywhere would wish to see the Faculty of the College unhampered to prosecute its purpose under favorable conditions, the Board has voted a new scale of salaries according to academic grade, which goes into effect the present year, and marks a decided advance towards better compensation. According to this scale professors will receive a minimum salary of $5,000; associate professors, $4,000; assistant professors, $3,000; and instructors less than $3,000, depending upon experience and length of service.

The tuition in the College has been increased for the year 1920-21 from $150, where it has long stood, to $200, making the total charges $500 to $650, according to the rooms occupied. The cost, however, of such items as provisions, coal, repairs, and wages has increased of late out of all proportion to any increase made in student charges, and it will be necessary to consider in the immediate future an increase in our charge for board and rooms.

As a partial offset to the increased costs in which students find themselves compelled to share, it is gratifying to note that our scholarship funds are well maintained. It is believed that these funds have enabled us to assist substantially all deserving students who found themselves embarrassed by the rising cost of higher education. Two gifts referred to here have been particularly welcome in this connection:

Edward M. Wistar (Class of 1872) and his wife, Margaret C. Wistar, have founded the Caspar Wistar Memorial Scholarship Fund by a gift of $5,000 in memory of their son, Caspar Wistar, of the Class of 1902, who died in Guatemala in 1917 while engaged in mission service in that country. This scholarship is intended "primarily for sons of parents engaged in Christian service, including secretaries of Young Men's Christian Associations, or students desiring preparation for similar service, in America or in other countries."

From Walter Brinton (Class of 1881) there has been received a fund of $5,000 to form the Walter Carroll Brinton Memorial Fund for scholarships. This fund is given by the family of the late Walter Carroll Brinton, of the Class of 1915, who died in France while a member of the American Friends' Reconstruction Unit.

From the family of Edmund Morris Fergusson, Jr. (Class of 1920), who died in the College Infirmary in Fifth month, 1920, there has been received the sum of $1,000 to constitute the Edmund Morris Fergusson Junior Memorial Fund for the maintenance and increase of the Haverford College Library's Department of English and American Literature.

In Eleventh month, 1919, William H. Collins retired as Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings and was succeeded by R. J. Johnston, who is now serving as General Manager of the entire College property. It is believed that by his appointment the advantages of combining in one person the responsibilities connected with the College and with the Farm have become evident and that a distinct step forward has been taken toward the efficient management of the physical property of the corporation.

The report of work done at the Morris Infirmary for the year 1919-20 is as follows:

Dispensary patients (medical)	1,123
Dispensary patients (surgical)	917
Total	2,040
Ailments are classified as follows:
General	303
Upper respiratory	290
Fractures	6
Suture cases	10
The record of house patients is as follows:
Cases admitted	134
Total time	713 days
Ailments are classified as follows:
Grippe	39
Intestinal	12
Joint conditions	20

One general operation and four local operations were performed. One death occurred in the Infirmary.

During the year ending Ninth month 30, 1920, there were added to the Library 2,980 volumes, of which 1,510 were bought, 905 were gifts, 144 were periodicals and pamphlets bound, and 204 were from the United States Government "on deposit," making the total number of volumes in the Library at the above date 81,036.

During the year 12,172 volumes were withdrawn for use outside the building. Of this number 7,905 (including "overnight books") were withdrawn by students, 2,743 by members of the Faculty and others connected with the College, and 1,524 by residents on the College grounds and others.

The following lectures outside of the regular course have been given during the year:

Commencement Day:

Sixth month 11, 1920.

The death of Isaac Sharpless in First month, 1920, directed the attention of the Board to the organization of the Thomas Wistar Brown Graduate School. Since its establishment in 1917, ex-President Sharpless had directed much time and thought to the interests of this new School, and had acted as its Dean from the time of his retirement from the presidency of the College until his death. The Executive Committee of the Board having been requested to express its judgment regarding the future organization and administration of the School made the following report to the Board in Third month, 1920:

"Carrying out your instructions, the following plan for the year 1920-21 has been adopted by the Executive Committee. The plan has been worked out with the co-operation of the President of the College and the members of the Faculty who are immediately concerned. While following in general the line adopted by President Sharpless, some minor changes have been made in the execution of his program, which, it is hoped, will meet some criticism which had developed during the first three years of the School's existence. The intention is to watch for two or three years the effect of encouraging quality rather than quantity. Other plans will still be open for trial if this fails to produce the desired results for Quakerism in America.

"The plan is as follows:

- "1. To distinguish more completely between the Graduate School and the College, by removing all students in the Graduate School from undergraduate classes, by publishing a separate announcement of the Graduate School, by listing students of the School under the brief statement of the School in the Catalogue, and by a separate bestowal of degrees at Commencement, but continuing for graduate students the privileges of the Library and of public lectures.
- "2. To offer six scholarships of $300 each, covering all necessary expenses, intended primarily for Friends (three of which are available at present for women, if such candidates apply), the same to be graduates of recognized colleges; all applications for scholarships to be accompanied by full academic record and standing, and at least three letters in testimony of character and purpose, which applications shall be considered Fifth month 1st by a Faculty committee of three. All scholarship holders to be regarded as candidates only for the Master's degree, which they may receive in one or two years, according to their ability to meet the standards required for the same degree in Haverford College.

"3. The curriculum of the School to be specifically announced in advance and to consist of work appropriate for graduate students and related to subjects indicated by the donor, under the care of an organized committee. The course might be regarded primarily as a course in reading under the guidance of lecturers, leading to formal examinations and theses. Lecturers for any given year are to be detailed from the College Faculty or called from other institutions for special service. No extra compensation should be allowed to the regular staff of the College, but suitable provision should be made on the College schedule to permit of such service. The responsible Faculty of the Graduate School should consist of those College professors giving instruction in any given year. The Moses Brown Fund should be used in the College budget approximately on the basis of proportion to services rendered to the Graduate School. The services of temporary lecturers, secured especially for the Graduate School, should, however, be available for the College when desired, without cost to the latter.

"4. There should be constituted a consultation sub-committee of four managers, who should keep themselves in touch with the welfare of the Graduate School.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

"5. The President of the College shall be the executive head of the Graduate School."

The report was accepted and approved.

On motion, the President appointed Charles J. Rhoads, John M. Whitall, J. Henry Scattergood and Morris E. Leeds a committee of the Managers to have oversight of the Thomas Wistar Brown Graduate School.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

FRANCIS B. GUMMERE MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920. This fund was started by a gift of $25,000 from Miss Emily H. Bourne, of New York, conditional upon the raising of $100,000 additional for an endowment of the Chair of English Literature in memory of her friend, Professor Francis Barton Gummere. A committee of alumni, consisting of J. Stogdell Stokes, '89, chairman; E. R. Tatnall, '07, treasurer; Hans Froelicher, '12, secretary; Charles J. Rhoads, '93; Alfred M. Collins, '97; Winthrop Sargent, Jr., '08, and Parker S. Williams, '94, working with President Comfort, organized a comprehensive campaign among the alumni and friends of the College to raise $500,000 for this purpose and for increases of professors' salaries; the first $100,000 of unspecified gifts was used to complete the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund to $125,000, and the balance comprised the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. Total paid in Eighth month 31, 1920, par value $100,040.50.

ISAAC SHARPLESS MEMORIAL FUND

The funds received, except where otherwise specified, were first applied to the completion of the former up to $125,000 (see above). Specified gifts and donations thereafter received were then applied to the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. The income only is to be used for salaries of professors. Paid in Eighth month 31, 1920, par value $11,238.28.

Present par value, $397,271.34. The fund was created to establish a graduate course in religious study in harmony with and supplementary to the teaching and study provided for by the John Farnum Brown Fund.

The income only is to be used; at least ten per cent of the total income must be capitalized each year. The unused income, if any, is likewise capitalized at the close of each fiscal year. # HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION

Haverford College was founded in 1833. It owes its origin to the insight and energy of a few members of the Society of Friends from Philadelphia and New York, who, in the spring of 1830, conceived the idea of founding an institution for education in the higher branches of learning. Its object, in the words of the founders, was "to combine sound and liberal instruction in literature and science with a religious care over the morals and manners, thus affording to the youth of our Society an opportunity of acquiring an education equal in all respects to that which can be obtained at colleges."

The founders were incorporated in 1833 under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into the Haverford School Association, a body now known as the Corporation of Haverford College. This corporation elects a board of managers for the control of its affairs and for the administration of its funds. For the founding of the School sixty thousand dollars was raised; but the sum proved insufficient for its maintenance, and for many years the financial deficit was met by liberal subscriptions of friends.

From 1845 to 1848 the School was closed in order to allow the funds to accumulate and to give time for the collection of an endowment. Since that time, by a number of generous bequests and donations, the amount of invested funds yielding interest has been increased to over two and one-half million dollars.

The first building of the College was Founders Hall, erected in 1833. The Observatory was built in 1852, and enlarged in 1883. Alumni Hall was built in 1863, and enlarged in 1898 and 1912 to meet the growing needs of the Library. In 1877 Barclay Hall, a dormitory, was erected by friends of the Col-The Mechanical Laboratory was established in 1884, and was provided with a new building in 1890; this was burned down in 1896, and Whitall Hall, a new three-story structure, was built. The old Biological Laboratory was established in 1886; Chase Hall for lectures and recitations, and the Physical Laboratory were built in 1888. The Cricket Shed was erected in 1893. In more recent years, during a period of rapid development made possible largely by the general and unfailing cooperation of the alumni, the following additions have been made to the College equipment: in 1899, the Logan and Norris sections of Lloyd Hall, a dormitory; in 1900, a large and well-equipped Gymnasium; in 1903, Roberts Hall, the gift of Lucy Branson Roberts, with College offices and a large auditorium; in 1903, Merion Hall, a dormitory, remodeled from the old Haverford Grammar School building; in 1905, an additional wing to Founders Hall for dining halls and kitchen; in 1906, a permanent building for the heating and lighting plant; in 1907, the enlargement of Merion Hall; in 1909, the Haverford Union, a building presented by Alfred Percival Smith, '84; in 1910, the Chemical Laboratory; in 1912, the Morris Infirmary, given by John T. Morris, '67: in 1913, a new section of Lloyd Hall, given by the estate of the late Justus C. Strawbridge, and a concrete grandstand, the gift of Horace E. Smith, '86; in 1916, the Smith section of Lloyd Hall, from the same donor, and the Kinsey section: in 1917, Isaac Sharpless Hall, for biology and physics. In addition to these College buildings there are a number of residences on the grounds which are occupied for the most part by professors.

HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION

The College has a pleasant and healthful location in the township of Haverford, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, nine miles west of the center of Philadelphia. It is accessible by the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad and by the Philadelphia and Western Railway. The selection of this site is thus described by the first managers: "We wished to procure a farm in a neighborhood of unquestionable salubrity—within a short distance of a Friends' meeting-of easy access from this city at all seasons of the year . . . recommended by the beauty of the scenery and a retired situation." And they reported that they had purchased for the sum of $17,865 "an oblong tract of 1981/2 acres . . . nearly south of the eight mile stone on the Lancaster Turnpike." This property has since been increased to two hundred and twenty-five acres with an estimated present value of over one and one-half million dollars. While the greater part is retained as farm and woodland, a lawn of sixty acres was long ago graded and tastefully planted with trees and shrubs by a landscape gardener, so that the natural beauty of the location has increased with passing The grounds include five fields for cricket, baseball, American Rugby and association football, a running-track, six tennis courts, and a pond for skating.

Parallel with its material growth there have been changes in the inner life of the College which have affected the methods of administration rather than the essential principles on which the institution was founded. It has gradually increased in number of students, but still enjoys the advantages of a small college. From the first it gave instruction of collegiate scope and grade. Accordingly, in 1856, the name was changed from school to college and the right to confer degrees was granted by the Legislature. In 1861 the preparatory department was abolished. General courses are now given in arts and science. The endowment for salaries and pensions enables the College to maintain a faculty of unusual size in proportion to the number of students, and to expend for the instruction, board, and lodging of each student about twice the sum which he pays.

In accordance with the modern ideals of religious and moral education, the students enjoy ample liberty, safeguarded by their wholesome physical life, by the traditions of the College, and by the intimate association with their professors and fellow students. The deep religious spirit bequeathed by the Quaker founders has been carefully cherished and high ideals of life and conduct are maintained; three times a month the College attends Friends' meeting in a body. In the admission of students and in the appointment of instructors there are no denominational distinctions. The aims of Haverford have been gradually developing and its function is becoming more and more clear—"to encourage the growth, among a limited number of young men, of vigorous bodies, scholarly minds, strong characters, and a real religious experience."

ADMISSION

Preliminary correspondence concerning admission to the College is invited, and should be addressed to the President. Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class shall make application on a blank which will be furnished on request. (See page 81.)

Each candidate shall also present a certificate of character from the principal of the school last attended. Principals are requested to write fully as to the character, habits, and ability of applicants. Such statements will have due weight in determining the question of admission.

The subjects which may be presented for admission are divided into two groups in accordance with the following table. The figures given represent "units" according to the system of the Carnegie Foundation.*

The candidate may give evidence of his preparation in these requirements by either of the following plans for admission:

I. By Examination only. The candidate must take entrance examinations in all the subjects which he presents for admission. He may take examinations in any of these subjects as preliminary examinations a full year or more before he intends to enter college, but no student will be admitted to a preliminary examination without a certificate from his teacher specifying the subjects in which he is prepared. The examinations taken may be either the ordinary examinations or the equivalent comprehensive examinations.

Students unable to pass all the examinations may be admitted with a few conditions. Each case will be decided on its merits.

II. By both Examination and Certificate. This system may be employed by school graduates only. The graduate must present, on blanks supplied by the College and signed by the principal of the school which he has attended, a complete record of his work on all subjects during the last four years of preparation, with the time spent and the grade received in each study. This work is expected to include the subjects with a total value of 15 units prescribed on the preceding page.

He must also take entrance examinations in three subjects,—English, mathematics, and one foreign language. The English will be the examination defined as English B. The mathematics will be both Mathematics A 2 and Mathematics C. The language required will be, for the A.B. degree, either Latin B or Advanced Greek; for the S.B. degree, Latin A or Elementary Greek or German A or French A or Spanish A. In June, at the option of the candidate, comprehensive examinations may be substituted entirely or in part for the ordinary examinations: for English B, English Cp; for Mathematics A2 and Mathematics C, Mathematics Cp3; for Latin B, Latin Cp4; for Advanced Greek, Greek Cp3; for Latin A, Latin Cp2; for Elementary Greek, Greek Cp2; for German A, German Cp2; for French A, French Cp2; for Spanish A, Spanish Cp2. As Mathematics A2 and Mathematics C are combined in one comprehensive examination three comprehensive examinations may thus be taken instead of the four ordinary examinations. These examinations must all be taken und passed at one time either in June or September.

On the basis of his certificate and his marks in these examinations the applicant will be either admitted without conditions or rejected with permission to apply again for admission according to either plan.

This plan is intended mainly for good students, who, deciding late in their school courses to enter Haverford, would find it difficult to prepare themselves for examination in all their entrance subjects, but could readily pass a good examination in three fundamental subjects of their school course and present a satisfactory certificate for all of it. Candidates of only average ability and those who can take preliminary examinations in regular order will gain nothing by adopting this plan.

Advanced Standing.—Candidates may be admitted to advanced classes if found proficient in all the preceding studies of the course. Each case will be considered on its merits. Students entering from other colleges must present certificates of honorable dismissal.

SCHEDULE OF EXAMINATIONS FOR ADMISSION

Applicants for admission to the Freshman Class are expected to take the examinations held by the College Entrance Examination Board in June in many cities. Those who pass these examinations in June will receive first consideration for all Freshman scholarships and for the limited accommodations annually reserved for Freshmen. For information with regard to these examinations address The College Entrance Examination Board, 431 West 117th St., New York City. The examinations for 1921 are scheduled for June 20-25. Application must be made to the Board before Monday, May 23, 1921, for examinations to be held west of the Mississippi, and before Monday, May 30, 1921, for examinations to be held east of the Mississippi.

Applicants from the public schools of New York State may also be admitted upon presentation of the necessary credits certified by the Regents of the State of New York.

Special Haverford examinations are held in September at the College for the convenience of emergency cases. No applicant should deliberately postpone his examination until September, as no assurance can be given that he will be admitted if the capacity of the College has already been reached.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION IN THE SEVERAL SUBJECTS

English *

The requirement in English is that recommended by the National Conference on Uniform Entrance Requirements in English.

REQUIREMENT FOR 1920-1922

The study of English in school has two main objects, which should be considered of equal importance: (1) command of correct and clear English, spoken and written; (2) ability to read with accuracy, intelligence, and appreciation, and the development of the habit of reading good literature with enjoyment.

Grammar and Composition.

The first object requires instruction in grammar and composition. English grammar should ordinarily be reviewed in the secondary school; and correct spelling and grammatical accuracy should be rigorously exacted in connection with all written work during the four years. The principles of English composition governing punctuation, the use of words, sentences, and paragraphs should be thoroughly mastered; and practice in composition, oral as well as written, should extend throughout the secondary school period. Written exercises may well comprise letter-writing, narration, description, and easy exposition and argument. It is advisable that subjects for this work be taken from the student's personal experience, general knowledge, and studies other than English, as well as from his reading in literature. Finally, special instruction in language and composition should be accompanied by concerted effort of teachers in all branches to cultivate in the student the habit of using good English in his recitations and various exercises, whether oral or written.

Literature.

The second object is sought by means of the reading and study of a number of books from which may be framed a progressive course in literature. The student should be trained in reading aloud and should be encouraged to commit to memory notable passages both in verse and in prose. As an aid to literary appreciation, he is further advised to acquaint himself with the most important facts in the lives of the authors whose works he reads, and with their place in literary history. He should read the books carefully, but his attention should not be so fixed upon details that he fails to appreciate the main purpose and charm of what he reads.

A few of these books should be read with special care, greater stress being laid upon form and style, the exact meaning of words and phrases, and the understanding of allusions.

EXAMINATION, 1920-1922

However accurate in subject-matter, no paper will be considered satisfactory if seriously defective in punctuation, spelling, or other essentials of good usage.

Grammar and Composition.

In grammar and composition, the candidate may be asked specific questions upon the practical essentials of these studies, such as the relation of the various parts of a sentence to one another, and those good usages of modern English which one should know in distinction from current errors. The main test in composition will consist of one or more essays developing a theme through several paragraphs; the subjects will be drawn from the books read, from the candidate's other studies, and from his personal knowledge and experience quite apart from reading. For this purpose the examiner will provide several subjects, perhaps eight or ten, from which the candidate may make his own selections. He will not be expected to write more than four hundred words an hour.

Literature.

The examination will include:

- A. Questions designed to test such knowledge and appreciation of literature as may be gained by an intelligent reading of the books given in List A below.
- B. A test on the books in List B below. This will consist of questions upon their content, form, and structure, and upon the meaning of such words, phrases, and allusions as may be necessary to an understanding of the works and an appreciation of their salient qualities of style. General questions may also be asked concerning the lives of the authors, their other works, and the periods of literary history to which they belong.

Division of Examination.

When parts A and B of the examination are taken at different times, each will include a test in grammar and composition.

THE COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATION IN ENGLISH

The purpose of this examination will be to test the ability of the candidate to define clearly, in writing, ideas gained both from books and from the life around him, and to read with accuracy and appreciation literature as varied in subject matter and form as that listed under "Uniform Entrance Requirements in English." Accuracy in the technique of writing will be insisted upon, but no paper will be considered satisfactory which does not show, in addition to this accuracy, that the student is able to think for himself and to apply what he has learned to the solution of unexpected problems. Although knowledge of the subject matter of the particular books prescribed in the "Uniform Entrance Requirements in English" is not necessary, yet the requisite ability cannot be gained without a systematic and progressive study of good literature.

A candidate for admission to Haverford "by examination only" (see above, p. 18) is required to take the examinations designated as English A and English B, as given by the College Entrance Examination Board or by Haverford College.

A candidate whose certificate entitles him to apply for admission "by both examination and certificate" (see above, p. 18) may take either English B or the Comprehensive Examination in English. The latter is given only by the College Entrance Examination Board; while difficult, it does offer certain advantages to one whose study of literature has not been based on the books listed for special study in English B.

MATHEMATICS

The definition of the requirements in Mathematics is the same as that of the College Entrance Examination Board.

In each subject stress will be laid upon accuracy and neatness of work. Results should be verified.

Mathematics A 1-Algebra: to Quadratics.

The four fundamental operations for rational algebraic expressions.

Factoring, determination of highest common factor and lowest common multiple by factoring.

Fractions, including complex fractions, and ratio and proportion.

Linear equations, both numerical and literal, containing one or more unknown quantities.

Problems depending on linear equations.

Radicals, including the extraction of the square root of polynomials and of numbers.

Exponents, including the fractional and negative.

Mathematics A 2-Algebra: quadratics and beyond.

Quadratic equations, both numerical and literal.

Simple cases of equations, with one or more unknown quantities, that can be solved by the methods of linear or quadratic equations.

Problems depending on quadratic equations.

The binomial theorem for positive integral exponents.

The formulas for the *n*th term and the sum of the terms of arithmetical and geometrical progressions, with applications.

It is assumed that pupils will be required throughout the course to solve numerous problems which involve putting questions into equations. Some of these problems should be chosen from mensuration, from physics, and from commercial affairs. The use of graphical methods and illustrations, particularly in connection with the solution of equations, is also expected.

Mathematics C-Plane Geometry.

The usual theorems and constructions of good text-books, including the general properties of plane rectilinear figures; the circle and the measurement of angles; similar polygons; areas; regular polygons and the measurement of the circle.

ADMISSION

The solution of numerous original exercises, including problems in loci.

- B. Medieval and Modern European History, from the death of Charlemagne to the present time.
  - C. Modern History.
  - D. English History.
  - E. American History.
  - G. American History and Civil Government.

Each of the above subjects is intended to represent one year of historical work wherein the study is given five times a week, or two years of historical work wherein the study is given three times a week.

The work should include the use of good text-books, collateral reading, practice in written work, and in locating places and movements on outline maps. The candidate should be trained in comparison and in the use of judgment as well as in the use of memory.

LATIN *

- I. AMOUNT AND RANGE OF THE READING REQUIRED
- (1) The Latin reading, without regard to the prescription of particular authors and works, shall be not less in amount than Cæsar, Gallic War, I-IV; Cicero, the orations against Catiline, for the Manilian Law, and for Archias; Vergil, Æneid, I-VI.

- (2) Prescribed Reading. Candidates will be examined also upon the following prescribed reading:

In 1921 and 1922. Cicero, the third oration against Catiline and the orations for Archias and Marcellus; Vergil, Æneid, II, III, and VI.

In 1923, 1924, and 1925. Cicero, the fourth oration against Catiline and the oration for the Manilian Law; Vergil, Æneid, I and IV; Ovid, Metamorphoses, Book III, 1-137 (Cadmus); IV, 55-166 (Pyramus and Thisbe), and 663-764 (Perseus and Andromeda); VI, 165-312 (Niobe); VIII, 183-235 (Dædalus and Icarus); X, 1-77 (Orpheus and Eurydice); XI, 85-145 (Midas).

Accompanying the different passages will be questions on subject-matter, literary and historical allusions, and prosody. Every paper in which passages from the prescribed reading are set for translation will contain also one or more passages for translation at sight; and candidates must deal satisfactorily with both these parts of the paper, or they will not be given credit for either part.

(3) Grammar and Composition. The examinations in grammar and composition will demand thorough knowledge of all regular inflections, all common irregular forms, and the ordinary syntax and vocabulary of the prose authors read in school, with ability to use this knowledge in writing simple Latin prose.

III. SUBJECTS FOR EXAMINATION

The work done in German 1 (see page 44) will be considered adequate for preparation.

Students presenting themselves for examination in German B will not be given credit for it unless they pass also the examination in German A.

Students who fail in the examination in German A will not be allowed to enter German 1 without special permission of the instructor; students who fail in the examination in German B will not be permitted to present themselves for reexamination in German B if they have taken German in college.

FRENCH

French A, admitting to French 1. (a) Proficiency in elementary grammar including the more common irregular verbs. (b) Ability to translate simple French prose and to put into French short sentences requiring a knowledge of the simpler idioms. Candidates should have read in preparation not less than three hundred pages, including reading at sight, from the works of at least three different authors.

French B, admitting to French 2. (a) Thorough knowledge of grammar. (b) Ability to translate ordinary French of the nineteenth century. (c) Command of idiom sufficient to put into French a connected passage of ordinary English prose. As preparation an equivalent of the work done in French 1 (see page 45) is adequate.

Students who have presented themselves for examination in French B will not be given credit for it unless they have passed also the examination in French A.

SPANISH

Only Spanish A is accepted, and the requirements are identical with those given above for French A.

BOTANY

The requirement will be one year's work. The student will be expected to have a fairly definite knowledge of the seed and seedling, root, stem, and leaf, the flower and fruit, the cell, and the natural history and classification of plants. The student's original laboratory note-book, endorsed by his teacher, must be presented at the time of the examination.

CHEMISTRY

The requirements in chemistry will comprehend a course of at least sixty experiments performed by the pupil and accompanied by systematic instruction in the common elements and their compounds, including chemical equations, the simple gas laws, and the fundamental atomic and molecular theories. The student's original laboratory note-book, endorsed by his teacher, must be presented at the time of the examination.

PHYSICS

The requirement will be one year's work, covering mechanics, sound, heat, light, magnetism, and electricity. Emphasis will be laid upon the solution of problems. At least two hours per week of laboratory work must be included. Note-books must be left with the instructor at the time of the examination.

PHYSIOLOGY

The requirement will be one year's work, and will cover the general principles of the subject; functional activity of muscular, nervous, epithelial, and connective tissues; the digestive, circulatory, excretory, and respiratory systems, and the special senses.

BIBLE

The requirement in Biblical subjects is in accord with the recommendations of The Commission on the Definition of a Unit of Bible Study for Secondary Schools, and gives an option of three types of courses, each the equivalent of four hours of recitation per week for twenty weeks, any two of which may be offered as a minimum requirement.

COURSE OF STUDY

The course of study includes both required and elective subjects, thus combining the breadth of knowledge and culture that comes from variety of studies with opportunity for concentration on limited fields. In addition to a general course in arts or in science, by proper choice of electives more specialized courses can be taken in mechanical engineering, in electrical engineering, or in the preparatory work required for admission to medical schools.

Required Subjects.—For the A.B. degree either Greek or Latin must be presented for entrance, and one of these languages and English must be taken in both Freshman and Sophomore years. One other language and mathematics must be taken in Freshman year. One course in laboratory science is required before graduation; this may either be taken in Freshman year, or deferred and offered in fulfilment of the further requirement that one course from the group biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics, be taken after Freshman year. Certain courses in history, economics, psychology, Biblical literature, ethics, and sociology are required during the last three years.

For the S.B. degree the four foreign language units required for entrance may be presented from any of the five languages in which examinations are held, but English and either French or German must be taken in both Freshman and Sophomore years. One other language and mathematics must be taken in Freshman year. One course in laboratory science is required before graduation; this may either be taken in Freshman year, or deferred and offered in partial fulfilment of the further requirement that two courses from the group biology, chemistry, physics and mathematics must be taken after Freshman year. Certain courses in history, economics, psychology, Biblical literature, ethics, and sociology are required during the last three years.

Elective Subjects.—Some choice in languages and in one other group of subjects is allowed in Freshman year. Two electives are to be chosen in Sophomore year. In both Junior and Senior years four elective courses are required and a fifth is permitted. But in order to encourage proper concentration, it is required that after Freshman year at least nine full-year hours be taken in one department and at least six full-year hours in each of two other departments.* The nine hours must be distributed over at least two years.

Conflicting Courses.—A student may not elect conflicting courses except with the consent of the Dean and the two instructors concerned; furthermore, no cuts are allowed in either of the two courses except those actually occasioned by the conflict.

Number of Hours Required.—The minimum number of hours for Freshmen is  $17\frac{1}{2}$ ; for Sophomores, 17; for Juniors and Seniors, 15. Freshmen and Sophomores are required in addition to take Physical Training. Not more than one additional course may be taken in any term without special permission of the Dean.

*In fulfilment of this requirement, no account shall be taken of courses intended primarily for Freshmen (namely Biology Ia, Engineering 1 and 1', English 1, French A, German A, Mathematics 1 and 1', Physics A) even though these courses be taken after Freshman year.

[Unless otherwise indicated all courses are offered in 1921-22.]

GREEK

Either Greek 1 and 2 (or A and 1) or Latin 1 and 2 are required of candidates for the A.B. degree in Freshman and Sophomore years respectively. Students presenting two units of Greek for entrance (see p. 32) will be admitted to Greek 1; those presenting three units may be admitted to Greek 2. All Greek courses are open as electives to those properly qualified.

For New Testament Greek see Biblical Literature 6a.

A. Course for Beginners. Thorough study of the elements of the language, followed by the reading of simple Attic prose. This course gives adequate preparation for Greek 1. Students who do not present Greek for admission and desire to begin the study in College, whether they intend to continue in the more advanced courses or not, are strongly advised to elect Greek A in Freshman year, if possible, rather than later.

Mr. Post: 4 hours.

1. Freshman Greek. Selections from various prose authors; Homer, Odyssey. Sight reading. Collateral reading on Greek private life and Greek mythology.

Mr. Post; 4 hours.

PROFESSOR PALMER; 3 hours, half-year.

ENGINEERING

The engineering courses are designed to give a thorough training in fundamental engineering principles and as far as practicable to illustrate the application of these principles to their associated industries.

Exceptional facilities for observing the practical side of the work are offered by the many manufacturing companies in and near Philadelphia, and frequent inspection trips are made.

The lack of a general or broad education as well as the lack of thoroughness in fundamentals has been quite universally recognized as limiting the usefulness and opportunities of many in the engineering profession. To provide against these deficiencies, students electing courses in engineering will be required to pursue studies of a general nature (history, ethics, economics, languages, etc.) throughout the four years, and to concentrate largely on mathematics, physics and chemistry, the fundamentals of all engineering. This combination of breadth with thorough groundwork prepares the way for the highest professional development.

A proper selection of electives from the several departments will meet the requirements of varied prospective future careers. As the combinations are numerous, no attempt has been made to outline the several possible courses, but in each case students are counseled as regards their individual needs in arranging their programs of study.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Past results have shown this combination of required and elective studies to be most satisfactory as regards professional advancement. However, for the needs of those desiring still more advanced technical courses before entering the active work of the profession, very favorable arrangements may be made with technical institutions, all of which grant substantial credit toward advanced standing for work completed at Hayerford.

The wood-working and metal-working shops, the laboratory for testing materials and the draughting-room are housed in Whitall Hall. A complete equipment is provided for carrying on bench and machine-tool work in both wood and metal. Steam-engine indicators, standard pressure gauges, calorimeters and electrical measuring-instruments, in connection with the central heating and lighting plant, afford good opportunity for the testing of boilers, engines, air-compressors, dynamos and auxiliaries. A 30,000-pound Riehlé screw testing-machine is part of the equipment for testing materials and for studying the laws of stress and strain. The equipment of the draughting-room includes a number of pieces for study and sketching, such as pumps, safety-valves, shaft-hangers, etc.

The electrical engineering laboratory occupies the first floor of the west wing of Founders Hall. The apparatus in this laboratory was selected to illustrate the modern applications as well as the fundamental principles. This includes many types of generators and motors, both alternating and direct; a complete line of measuring instruments; are and incandescent lamps; galvanometers; bridges, standards, etc. Direct and alternating currents of all necessary varieties are available for tests and calibrations.

Courses 1, 2 and 3 are given, normally, in the first or second half-year, as indicated by a or b, but may be elected, when the student is properly qualified, in either half-year.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

The college equipment for outdoor athletics includes: Walton Field for Rugby football and track sports, with a concrete grandstand and 440-yard oval and 220-yard straightaway cinder tracks; the Class of 1888 and Merion Fields for Association football; a skating pond; Cope Field for cricket, with players' pavilion and shed for winter practice; a baseball diamond; and several tennis courts.

The Gymnasium contains a main floor, sixty by ninety feet, equipped with the most improved appliances for American and Swedish gymnastics. It has an inclined running track, five feet in width. Adjoining the main floor are offices for the use of the directors in physical examination and measurement, and special student conferences. Adjoining the main hall is a large and comfortable reading-room with magazines and papers. Above are a trophy room and apartments for the use of the College athletic managers and alumni. The basement contains dressing-rooms, a number of well-ventilated lockers, shower-baths, a swimming-pool, and a double bowling-alley. Students are required to furnish their own towels and attend to the laundering of the same. There is a special dressing-room provided for the faculty and visiting athletic teams.

A thorough physical examination is given to each student upon entrance, and another at the end of the Sophomore year. No student whose physical condition is unsatisfactory will be permitted to represent the College on any athletic team. Ability to swim two lengths of the gymnasium pool is required of Sophomores before leaving the required Physical Training Course.

Course 1 is required of Freshmen in connection with Biology 1a (see page 58), Course 2 of Sophomores. Course 3 is elective for Seniors and Juniors, but it may be substituted for Course 2 by Sophomores who pass qualification tests at stated periods.

These courses are arranged in accordance with the plan for all-year physical training during Freshman and Sophomore years.

Physical Training 1. A course of instruction in athletic games, partly elective, first and fourth quarters, and in systematic gymnastic training (calisthenics, marching, and apparatus work), second and third quarters.

2 hours, first and fourth quarters.

3 hours, second and third quarters.

Physical Training 2. A course of instruction in athletic games, partly elective, first and fourth quarters, and in advanced gymnastic training, second and third quarters.

2 hours, entire year.

Physical Training 3. Elective practice in advanced gymnastic work; track, soccer and cricket practice with team squads. The former is open to members of the faculty.

THE LIBRARY

The College Library now contains about eighty thousand volumes, besides numerous classified but uncatalogued pamphlets. It has been selected and arranged with the object of making it especially useful to college professors and students. All have free access to the shelves and are permitted to withdraw from the Library any volume except those reserved for special reasons. The Librarian and assistants will do anything they can to help readers to use the Library intelligently and independently.

About six thousand dollars is expended yearly for the purchase of books and periodicals. The Library is a regular government depository and receives from other sources many substantial gifts and bequests.

The collection of Quaker literature is probably the most complete in America. The William H. Jenks collection of Friends' tracts, mostly of the seventeenth century, numbers about fifteen hundred separately bound titles.

The Library possesses the fine Harris collection of over sixty Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Arabic, Syriac and Ethiopic manuscripts collected by J. Rendel Harris. Besides these there is a collection of facsimiles of ancient documents, including photographic facsimiles of the four great manuscripts of the New Testament, of the Freer Washington manuscript, and of the recently discovered Odes of Solomon. There is a collection of more than four hundred Babylonian clay tablets dating from B. C. 2500. There are also seven hundred reproductions in fictile ivory of ancient and medieval carved ivories.

Over two hundred literary and scientific periodicals are taken, besides many annual reports, year-books and irregular continuations.

The Library is open, with some exceptions, on week days from 8.30 A. M. to 10 P. M., and on Sundays from 3 to 6 P. M. While designed especially for the use of the officers and students, it affords to others the privilege of consulting and, under certain restrictions, of withdrawing books.

THE CHARLES ROBERTS AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION

This autograph collection, formed by the late Charles Roberts, of Philadelphia, a graduate (1864) and for many years a Manager of the College, was in 1902 presented to the College by his wife, Lucy B. Roberts. It consists of more than 11,000 items, embracing not only autograph letters of European and American authors, statesmen, scientists, ecclesiastics, monarchs, and others, but also several series of valuable papers. The whole collection, covering as it does the period beginning with the late fifteenth century and coming down to the present day, is one of unusual historical and literary interest.

It has been housed in a fireproof room, and a careful card catalogue has been prepared. The collection is open for inspection or research on application to the curator, Professor Thomas.

GRADING OF STUDENTS

In determining the standing of the student, daily recitations, hour examinations, and final examinations are all employed. The grades attained by students in their college courses are indicated on reports, issued quarterly, by the five letters, A. B, C, D, E. A indicates a grade from 90 to 100, inclusive; B from 80, inclusive, to 90; C* from 70, inclusive, to 80; D* from 60, inclusive, to 70, and E indicates a failure. The numerical grades are not published. No student is permitted to graduate if his combined average for the Junior and Senior years is below C.

HONORS

Honors are awarded for excellence in the studies of single departments. They are never given merely for performance of routine work in courses, but a considerable amount of extra work is demanded in every case.

Honors are of three kinds:

(a) Honorable Mention, to be awarded for work in a single course meeting not less than two hours per week throughout the year, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 75 hours. Candidates for Honorable Mention must obtain the grade of A in the regular work of the course and pass creditably an examination on the additional work required. Two half-courses in the same department may be construed as a single course. Honorable Mention will be awarded for work in History 2a, or Economics 1b, provided the foregoing requirements as to grade and additional work are satisfied. History 2a may be counted as a full course for Preliminary Honors taken at the end of the Sophomore year.

- (b) Preliminary Honors, to be awarded at the end of the Sophomore, Junior, or Senior year for not less than two full courses in a single department, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 150 hours. Candidates for Preliminary Honors must obtain a grade of at least B in all courses required for such honors (see below) and a grade of A in such of these courses as are taken in the year in which they are candidates, and must pass creditably examinations on the additional work required.
- (c) Final Honors, to be awarded upon graduation for work in the courses of a single department, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 250 hours. Candidates for Final Honors must take at least four full courses in the department in which they apply for honors, at least two of these courses being in the Junior and Senior years. They must in all of these courses obtain a grade of at least B and in those taken in the Senior year a grade of A, and must pass creditably examinations on the additional work required. There are three grades of final Honors: Honors, High Honors, and Highest Honors. The requirements for High Honors are of a more exacting nature than those for Honors, and Highest Honors are reserved for very exceptional cases. Both High Honors and Highest Honors are awarded only by special vote of the Faculty.

Students entering with advanced standing may offer work done elsewhere towards satisfying the requirements for Preliminary or Final Honors.

A student who has received the prescribed grade in the regular work of a course required for honors, but who has not done the additional work required in connection with such course, may, with the consent of the professor in charge, make up his deficiency in a later year, but in the case of Final

HONORS

Honors all such deficiencies must be made up by the end of the Junior year.

At the time of the award of Honors there shall be added to the general average for the year of each student receiving Honors, one-half of one per cent for each award of Honorable Mention, Preliminary Honors, or Final Honors. In any given year only one such addition may be made to a student's grade for work in any one subject.

The minimum requirements in courses for Preliminary Honors (if offered) and for Final Honors are specified on the next page.

DEFICIENT STUDENTS

Opportunities for the removal of entrance conditions will be given at the regular entrance examinations in June and September and at a special examination in January.

Opportunities for the removal of first half-year conditions will be given in April and September.

Opportunities for the removal of second half-year conditions will be given in September and January.

Conditions in required courses should be removed at the first regular re-examination period after failure: if not then removed a fee of five dollars will be charged against the student at the next regular re-examination period, whether or not the make-up examination be actually taken. A student who has failed to remove a condition in a required course before that course is again offered shall repeat the course; an elective course may be repeated with the consent of the instructor. No course may be repeated more than once; failure to pass a repeated required course will thus prevent the student from obtaining his degree. For any course begun and either dropped after two weeks, or not passed at the regular examination or at the two succeeding make-up examinations. the student will be charged a fee of five dollars per half-vear hour, whether the course be repeated or not. In case of conflict the repeated course shall take precedence over all other courses

A student who is repeating a course, or who is deficient in class standing in excess of six half-year hours, or who is carrying an entrance condition after the Freshman year, shall have his name appear in the student list of the current catalogue with an asterisk (*) to indicate that he is not in full class standing.

Usually a student who has more than eight half-year hours of failures against him at the opening of College in September, will be dropped, or, at his option, allowed to enter the next lower class, repeating all the courses of that year.

DEGREES

BACHELOR OF ARTS AND BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

Students who have received credit for the full number of hours in prescribed and elective studies, provided they have for the Junior and Senior years a combined average of C, or above, are granted the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. For the difference in the requirements for the two degrees see page 37. The fee for the Bachelor's degree is fifteen dollars.

MASTER OF ARTS AND MASTER OF SCIENCE

Resident graduates who have received the Bachelor's degree from Haverford College may be admitted as candidates for the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science. Such students must submit, in writing, for the approval of their instructors and the Faculty Committee on Advanced Degrees, a plan of study involving the equivalent of twelve hours a week in advanced courses. This shall be supplemented by additional intensive work equivalent to a three-hour course, which shall be distributed in a manner to be approved by the committee, or at the option of the instructors concerned, by a thesis. This plan shall be filed with the Registrar before October 15th of the year in which the student begins work for the degree. No course shall be credited towards the Master's degree in which the grade attained is lower than B. The fee for the degree is twenty dollars.

ROOMS

Entering Freshmen may choose rooms in the order in which their application blanks for admission (see page 16) are received. For this choice a day is appointed, of which due notice is given in advance. Ten of the $525 rooms are regularly reserved as a part of the apportionment for Freshmen. The choice of rooms by other students is governed by published rules.

A deposit of $15 is required of all students, old and new, before a room is reserved. In case the student occupies the room, the amount will be deducted from his bill for the following year; otherwise it will be forfeited.

EXPENSES

The combined charge for tuition ($200), board ($250), and room-rent ($75 to $225, according to location), varies from $525 to $675 a year. This includes heat, electric light, attendance and the use of necessary bedroom furniture, i. e., a chiffonier and a bed, the linen for which is furnished and laundered by the College for an annual fee of five dollars. Students will supply their own study furniture. In general two students share one study and each has his private bedroom adjoining. A few single rooms are also available. The number of students accommodated in the different halls is as follows:

Merion Hall,	9	at	$525	each
Merion Hall,	4	at	$550	each
Merion Hall,	22	at	$575	each

Barclay Hall,	50	at	$625	each
Barclay Hall,	1	at	$650
Lloyd Hall,	44	at	$675	each

The charge for tuition of day-students is $200 a year; for tuition and mid-day meal, $280 a year. For additional fees, see pages 79 and 80.

An annual infirmary fee of five dollars is charged to all students living at the College. A laboratory fee (averaging five dollars) and a bill for materials consumed and for breakage is charged in each of the laboratories. An annual fee of two dollars is charged to all students for the privileges of the Haverford Union (see below). Books and stationery will, at the option of the student, be supplied by the College and charged on the half-yearly bills.

First term bills, for three-fifths of the student's total cash indebtedness for room, board, and tuition for the year, are rendered October first and must be paid before November first. Second term bills are rendered February first and must be paid before March first. Failure to pay within the specified time automatically cancels the student's registration.

THE HAVERFORD UNION

The Haverford Union is a large and attractive building supplied with reading rooms, recreation rooms, sleeping rooms for visiting alumni, and a large assembly hall.

SCHOLARSHIPS

THE MORRIS INFIRMARY

The Morris Infirmary, presented by John T. Morris, '67, has been in operation since the fall of 1912. It contains ten beds, a surgical room, an isolation ward for contagious diseases, and accommodations for physician and nurse. Every provision has been made for both residence and dispensary care of all student conditions, medical and surgical, occurring during the college year. Prompt relief is thus afforded from the dangers of infection through illness in the college dormitories.

Except for the infirmary fee mentioned above, the attendance of the regular nurse is free to students. Medical attendance for brief ailments is also given, free of charge, by the college physician.

The Senior Foundation Scholarships will thus be vacated yearly, and about one-fourth of the others.

The following regulations will govern the grant of scholar-ships:

- 1. No scholarship will be given to a student who has conditions.
- 2. No scholarship will be given to a student who is in debt to the College.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

In connection with the Dean's office there is an Employment Bureau through which students may be put in touch with many kinds of remunerative employment. Each year some men are able to make enough money to pay all their college expenses. During the past year students have earned over $4,000 in more than twenty different occupations.

GEORGE PEIRCE PRIZE IN CHEMISTRY OR MATHEMATICS

In memory of Dr. George Peirce, 1903, a prize of $25 is offered annually to a student "who has shown marked proficiency in either or both of these studies and who intends to follow a profession which calls for such preparation. Preference is to be given to a student who has elected organic chemistry, and failing such a student, to one who has elected mathematics or some branch of chemistry other than organic. Should there be two students of equal promise, the one who is proficient in Greek shall be given preference." The prize is offered, however, exclusively for students who expect to engage in research, and it will not be awarded unless the candidate has this expressed intention.

HAVERFORD LIBRARY LECTURES

The income of $10,000, received in 1894 from the estate of Mary Farnum Brown, is available by the terms of the gift "to provide for an annual course or series of lectures before the Senior Class of the College, and other students, on the Bible, its history and literature, and as way may open for it, upon its doctrine and its teaching."

THOMAS SHIPLEY LECTURES ON ENGLISH LITERATURE

The sum of $5,000, presented in 1904 by Samuel R. Shipley, in memory of his father, Thomas Shipley, constitutes the Thomas Shipley Fund. The income of this fund is ordinarily to be used "for lectures on English literature."

SOCIETIES

A Young Men's Christian Association, organized in 1879, has a membership embracing a large number of the student body. It holds meetings twice a week, the midweek meetings being addressed by prominent speakers from outside the College and the Sunday meetings being conducted by students. The work of the association includes a variety of outside activities, such as boys' work in Preston and Ardmore, a number of Bible classes in the College and vicinity, mission work and social work in Philadelphia, deputation work, etc.

The Social Science Club is an organization for those members of the Faculty and students who are especially interested in the discussion of economic, historical, and sociological questions. Meetings are frequently addressed by prominent speakers, and papers are read by members.

The Scientific Society is an organization with membership drawn from the Faculty and students, having for its object the promotion of interest in general science.

The Radio Club is composed of students interested in wireless telegraphy. It has for its headquarters a fully equipped station in Sharpless Hall for receiving and sending messages.

The Classical Club is composed of members of the Faculty, students, alumni, and others, who are interested in the life and literature of the Greeks and Romans.

A chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, Zeta of Pennsylvania, was established at the College in 1898.

The Founders Club, established in 1914, is an organization of alumni and undergraduates, to which upper classmen become automatically eligible if they attain a grade of at least B in class-room work and take part in a certain number of extra-curriculum activities.

The Cap and Bells Club, composed of both alumni and students, organizes and arranges the musical and dramatic productions of the College.

The Campus Club is an organization of the Faculty, students, and other friends of the College for promoting the study and preservation of trees, shrubs, birds, and wild animals on the College property.

PERIODICALS

The Haverford College Bulletin is issued by the College four times in each collegiate year. Included under this title are the College Reports, Catalogue, Athletic Annual, Alumni Quarterly, and other matter.

The Haverford News and The Haverfordian are student publications, the former appearing weekly, and the latter monthly, during the collegiate year.

THOMAS WISTAR BROWN GRADUATE SCHOOL

Haverford College Athletics

1920 - 1921

Edited in the Interest of Haverford

FOREWORD

Three events of important athletic significance seem to have happened during the current collegiate year. First, the reorganization of the joint alumni and college athletic committee, resulting in an effective working body of six under the chairmanship of the president of the college, and the promise of a graduate manager for the ensuing year. Second, the cricket renaissance under the effective leadership of Mr. C. C. Morris, Dr. Comfort, and Professor Hinchman, which indicates much for the future cricket of Haverford. And third, the return of athletic strength for our great rival, Swarthmore, inaugurated with a strong football showing in the fall, and culminating in a superb victory in track athletics in the spring.

During the year the Sophomore and Freshman required all-year physical training, consisting of additional athletic work during the first and fourth quarters, has been successfully managed. The grading for this work has been determined on the basis of effort, physical improvement.

and games skill.

We bespeak the earnest cooperation of all alumni, students and friends of Haverford in encouragement of Haverford spirit among the schools, providing strong and adequate coaching, and stimulating college spirit in the achievement of success.

College has opened this year with an attendance of 225. There are 69 Freshmen; 19 new students have entered with advanced standing from other colleges. Again we have to report that this is the largest number of undergraduates Haverford has ever received and that all dormitory accommodations are filled. There are 19 day students.

The demand for higher education has been steadily increasing since the War. We have never received so many inquiries regarding entrance from both near and far. For the first time the present Freshman class entered largely upon examinations set by the College Entrance Board. The Faculty has decided that henceforth this shall be the regular method of entrance, and that only emergency cases and students with conditions shall enter by our own examinations held in Ninth month. It is clear that the wise policy of the previous administration in placing quality always before quantity has secured for Haverford an enviable reputation and that in the future we shall have an excess of applications for admission from which we can select those young men who appear of the best promise.

At the annual meeting of the Corporation held Tenth month 12th, 1920, Richard D. Wood, of the Class of 1898, was elected a member of the Board for the term of three years. At a meeting of the Board held Eleventh month 19th, 1920, the resignation of Albert L. Baily, of the Class of 1878, "was received and, with much regret, accepted." To fill the unexpired term of Albert L. Baily, Arthur H. Thomas of Haverford, Pa., was elected a member of the Board at a meeting held First month 21st, 1921.

There are no changes in the personnel of the College

Faculty for the year 1921–1922. The Board of Managers has, however, sanctioned the following promotions: Leon Hawley Rittenhouse, M.E., to be Professor of Engineering; Frank Dekker Watson, Ph.D., to be Professor of Sociology and Social Work; William Buell Meldrum, Ph.D., to be Associate Professor of Chemistry; John Alexander Kelly, Ph.D., to be Assistant Professor of German. Leave of absence during the second term of 1921–1922 has been granted to Professor Don C. Barrett.

At its meeting held First month 21st, 1921, the Board adopted the following minute regarding the recent death of Professor Allen Clapp Thomas, of the Class of 1865:

"The death of Allen C. Thomas, which occurred on the 15th of Twelfth month, has removed one whose life has been intimately bound up with the life and development of the College. He entered Haverford in 1861 at the age of fifteen. He won marked distinctions as a student and graduated in 1865 as valedictorian of his class. In 1878 he was appointed Business Manager of the College with the title of Prefect and at the same time was made Professor of Rhetoric, Political Science and History, serving in these capacities until 1885. After a year of study in Europe he returned in 1886 to devote himself more specifically to the Department of History and the expanding duties of Librarian, though he also continued to teach Political Science until 1893.

"His wide knowledge of books not only in his own field but also in general literature made him a valuable adviser of the students in their reading in the Library and a helpful counsellor to anyone doing research work. He has further rendered a very important service to the College as Curator of Quaker Literature and History, though that title was not conferred upon him.

"He was a successful author and had a number of important books to his credit. His History of the United States has become a widely recognized and authoritative text-book and has a sale of over a million copies. In the Quaker field he was a sound and reliable authority and he was possessed of extensive knowledge of Quaker biography, history, faith and practice. He was recorded a minister in 1889, and both before and since that date he took an important part in the spiritual service of the College and the Meeting which is so closely affiliated with the College.

"He had taste, refinement, broad human interests and profound religious experience and sympathies. He has been a unique personality in our College family and a helpful influence here for over forty years."

At the suggestion of the Alumni Council and upon nomination of the Faculty, the Board directed the President of the College to prepare a suitable certificate to be awarded to certain former students of the College who had enlisted in various forms of service connected with the Great War and who had been prevented from continuing their studies. At the last Commencement such a certificate, bearing the seal of the College and the signature of the President of the Corporation, the Secretary of the Board of Managers, and the President of the College, was awarded to twenty-four former students of Haverford College.

The curriculum at Haverford has probably been affected by the War less than that of many institutions of learning. It appears that our patronage is largely amongst conservative people who believe in the study of the traditional branches which have long been features of an Arts and Science course. The study of Latin is holding on fairly well at Haverford, though there is a tendency to the election of the Science course by entering students. The courses in French and Chemistry have probably been more directly affected by the War than any others. If the present popularity of these courses continues, it is likely that we shall soon require more assistance in the teaching of them.

From time to time suggestions are made that Haverford increase somewhat the scope of its curriculum. Among the subjects which have been suggested as suitable for cultivation at Haverford have been International Law,

History and Appreciation of Art, Pedagogy, Physical and Commercial Geography, and Business Law. Doubtless there is something to be said for all of these subjects, but I believe that Haverford will do well to go slowly in the multiplication of undergraduate courses. Many institutions which have pledged themselves to instruction in a wide range of subjects now find themselves financially embarrassed by the fulfilment of such a pledge. There is no question, however, that Haverford should put within the reach of its students some knowledge of painting, sculpture and architecture through some of the effective illustrative means which are now available in occasional lectures. I should not favor the inclusion of the History and Appreciation of Art as a course counting for a degree, but if the funds were forthcoming, we ought to provide lectures by competent persons upon the history of man's most striking artistic accomplishments. There is much also to be said for the study of International Law at Haverford. The Board of Managers has expressed its interest in this subject and its belief that the study of International Law and International Relations was an appropriate subject for our Faculty to present. It is probable that if the College were to receive funds for the establishment of a Chair of International Law we should find ourselves in a position to render a real service to the nation by preparing our students competently for State Department Examinations leading to appointments in the diplomatic or consular service.

The following lectures outside of the regular course have been given during the year:

Haverford Library Lectures:

"Religion as Comradeship," by Professor Theodore G. Soares, of the University of Chicago. Second month 10, 1921.

Commencement Day:

Commencement exercises in Roberts Hall, with address by Dr. John Alexander MacIntosh, Professor of Philosophy of Religion and Ethics, McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago.

Sixth month 10, 1921.

Divers gifts have been received during the year from certain alumni and interested friends. The knowledge that these gifts are made gladly and readily is a great satisfaction, and makes easier many undertakings of a petty nature during the college year.

The Librarian reports as follows:

"During the year ending Ninth month 30th, 1921, there were added to the Library 3,578 volumes, of which 2,693 were bought, 668 were gifts and 217 were from the United States Government "on deposit;" 64 were withdrawn as lost or worn-out, making the total number of volumes at the above date 84,550.

"During the year 14,135 volumes were withdrawn for use outside of the building. Of this number 9,694 (including 1,216 "over-night" books) were withdrawn by students, 2,782 by members of the Faculty and others connected with the College, and 1,659 by alumni, neighbors and friends." During the past year a notice was sent to many neighbors of the College inviting them to make use of the College Library. The Librarian reports that this invitation has resulted in an extended use of the Library as a convenience in our neighborhood, and that many new patrons have expressed their appreciation of the invitation and the privilege extended.

The report of the Infirmary for the year 1920–1921 is as follows:

The record of house patients is as follows:
Patients admitted	86
Total time (days)	477
Diseases are classified as follows:
Grippe	16
Intestinal	4
Joint conditions	11
Pulmonary	11
Tonsillitis	7
Appendicitis	2
External infections	10
Operations	5
Miscellaneous general	20
The record of visits of dispensary patients:
Medical	723
Surgical	943
2,	666
Conditions are classified as follows:
General	421
Upper respiratory	158
Fractures	2
Suture cases	6

The property of the College has been maintained in good condition during the year. The farm includes now only about eighty acres of tillable land and upon this have been raised satisfactory crops of corn, wheat, oats and hay. The farm, under the efficient management of R. J. Johnston, has paid for itself. Considerable planting has been done about the campus with the support and co-operation of the Campus Club. Care of our lawns and fine shade trees during the summer months calls for a considerable outlay, but it is felt by all that the beauty of the campus is one of our strongest assets and that no price is too great to pay for the maintenance of the natural beauty of Haverford.

At the present time the township sewer is being run through that part of the College property which lies beyond Haverford Road and the Philadelphia and Western tracks. It will likely prove necessary in the near future for the College dormitories to be connected with the township system, as the present method of sewage disposal provided fifteen years ago on our own property proves no longer adequate for a much larger population. The two sources of water in the College spring and in the artesian well at the power house are also insufficient for our present needs. On occasion the Springfield Company water is drawn upon to make up our lack, and this suggests the necessity of increasing our regular supply from this source.

No large building operations have been in progress during the year, but the third floor of Founders Hall has now been entirely converted into rooms for students, and the College servants have been removed into very suitable quarters provided in what was formerly the chemical laboratory in the detached building back of Founders Hall. The total expense of these alterations, which constitute a permanent improvement, will be nearly $5,000. The athletic fields, of which four are completed, have been well maintained and quite constantly used during the year. The field which was begun by the Emergency Unit in 1917 has never been finished to its full size. The completion of this field, which lies just west of '88 field, is one of our most urgent needs. The present policy of the College to engage all of our students in practice for athletic teams makes the use of these outdoor fields most necessary, and suggests the construction of an athletic practice cage for certain sports in the rear of the gymnasium. The gymnasium is now much crowded by class requirements, and other institutions have anticipated us in satisfying requirements for a large indoor floor space where, during the winter, organized games can be played without interfering with class work. It is hoped that the construction of such a suitable cage may not be long postponed.

Amongst the needs of the College are the establishment of a fund for scientific equipment; the establishment of permanent professorships; funds for finishing our fifth athletic field and to construct a practice cage for indoor athletics; a special librarian for the Quaker collections in our Library, to keep Haverford's place as the richest depository and center of Quaker historical study in America.

For all these purposes, as well as for the foundation of memorial scholarships, the College needs new funds. The President will be happy at any time to discuss our needs with persons desiring to make provision by testament or donation for the pursuit of true scholarship by deserving young men.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT OF THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

The work of the Thomas Wistar Brown Graduate School of Haverford College was carried on during the past year on the lines of administration and instruction approved by the Board during the preceding year. Five resident students were in attendance during the first term and four during the second term. The Master's Degree was awarded at Commencement to four candidates, representing Earlham, Wilmington and Penn colleges. Those who have attended the School during the first four years of its existence are occupied chiefly in teaching or in religious and social work in their respective communities.

This year has opened with seven resident students, who are taking the regular program, and four non-residents taking part time work, not leading to a degree. Guilford, Penn, Earlham, Wilmington, Nebraska Central, Wooster and Haverford College are represented in this number. Of these, six are men and five are women. Perhaps as the result of more publicity, more applications for scholarships were received than ever before, which in itself is an encouraging sign of our increased usefulness to our Society. Only those are received as students who have already obtained the Bachelor's Degree.

During the year the standing committee of the Board appointed to have care of the School held one meeting at the Graduate House, where, with the Professors engaged there, they were hospitably entertained at dinner and had an opportunity to meet all the students and to become somewhat acquainted with their personality. It is hoped that this opportunity may be repeated annually.

We are feeling our way in the conduct of this School and believe that in a few years we shall see clearly what its future development is likely to be.

HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION

Haverford College was founded in 1833. It owes its origin to the insight and energy of a few members of the Society of Friends from Philadelphia and New York, who, in the spring of 1830, conceived the idea of founding an institution for education in the higher branches of learning. Its object, in the words of the founders, was "to combine sound and liberal instruction in literature and science with a religious care over the morals and manners, thus affording to the youth of our Society an opportunity of acquiring an education equal in all respects to that which can be obtained at colleges."

The founders were incorporated in 1833 under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into the Haverford School Association, a body now known as the Corporation of Haverford College. This corporation elects a board of managers for the control of its affairs and for the administration of its funds. For the founding of the School sixty thousand dollars was raised; but the sum proved insufficient for its maintenance, and for many years the financial deficit was met by liberal subscriptions of friends.

From 1845 to 1848 the School was closed in order to allow the funds to accumulate and to give time for the collection of an endowment. Since that time, by a number of generous bequests and donations, the amount of invested funds yielding interest has been increased to over three million dollars.

The first building of the College was Founders Hall. erected in 1833. The Observatory was built in 1852, and enlarged in 1883. Alumni Hall was built in 1863, and enlarged in 1898 and 1912 to meet the growing needs of the Library. In 1877 Barclay Hall, a dormitory, was erected by friends of the College. The Mechanical Laboratory was established in 1884, and was provided with a new building in 1890; this was burned down in 1896, and Whitall Hall, a new three-story structure, was built. The old Biological Laboratory was established in 1886: Chase Hall for lectures and recitations, and the old Physical Laboratory were built in 1888. The Cricket Shed was erected in 1893. In more recent years, during a period of rapid development made possible largely by the general and unfailing co-operation of the alumni, the following additions have been made to the College equipment: in 1899, the Logan and Norris sections of Lloyd Hall, a dormitory: in 1900, a large and well-equipped Gymnasium: in 1903, Roberts Hall, the gift of Lucy Branson Roberts, with College offices and a large auditorium; in 1903, Merion Hall, a dormitory, remodeled from the old Haverford Grammar School building: in 1905, an additional wing to Founders Hall for dining halls and kitchen: in 1906, a permanent building for the heating and lighting plant; in 1907, the enlargement of Merion Hall: in 1909, the Haverford Union, a building presented by Alfred Percival Smith, '84; in 1910, the Chemical Laboratory: in 1912, the Morris Infirmary, given by John T. Morris, '67; in 1913, a new section of Lloyd Hall. given by the estate of the late Justus C. Strawbridge, and a concrete grandstand, the gift of Horace E. Smith, '86; in 1916, the Smith section of Lloyd Hall, from the same donor, and the Kinsey section; in 1917, Isaac Sharpless

HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION

Hall, for biology and physics. In addition to these College buildings there are a number of residences on the grounds which are occupied for the most part by professors.

The College has a pleasant and healthful location in the township of Haverford, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, nine miles west of the center of Philadelphia. It is accessible by the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad and by the Philadelphia and Western Railway. The selection of this site is thus described by the first managers: "We wished to procure a farm in a neighborhood of unquestionable salubrity—within a short distance of a Friends' meeting—of easy access from this city at all seasons of the vear . . . recommended by the beauty of the scenery and a retired situation." And they reported that they had purchased for the sum of $17,865 "an oblong tract of 198½ acres . . . nearly south of the eight mile stone on the Lancaster Turnpike." This property has since been increased to two hundred and twenty-five acres with an estimated present value of over one and one-half million dollars. While a portion is retained as farm and woodland, a lawn of sixty acres was long ago graded and tastefully planted with trees and shrubs by a landscape gardener, so that the natural beauty of the location has increased with passing years. The grounds include five fields for cricket, baseball, American Rugby and association football, a running-track, six tennis courts, and a pond for skating.

Parallel with its material growth there have been changes in the inner life of the College which have affected the methods of administration rather than the essential principles on which the institution was founded. It has gradually increased in number of students, but still enjoys the advantages of a small college. From the first it gave instruction of collegiate scope and grade. Accordingly, in 1856, the name was changed from school to college and the right to confer degrees was granted by the Legislature. In 1861 the preparatory department was abolished. General courses are now given in arts and science. The endowment for salaries and pensions enables the College to maintain a faculty of unusual size in proportion to the number of students, and to expend for the instruction, board, and lodging of each student about twice the sum which he pays.

In accordance with the modern ideals of religious and moral education, the students enjoy ample liberty, safeguarded by their wholesome physical life, by the traditions of the College, and by the intimate association with their professors and fellow students. The deep religious spirit bequeathed by the Quaker founders has been carefully cherished and high ideals of life and conduct are maintained; three times a month the College attends Friends' meeting in a body. In the admission of students and in the appointment of instructors there are no denominational distinctions. The aims of Haverford have been gradually developing and its function is becoming more and more clear—"to encourage the growth, among a limited number of young men, of vigorous bodies, scholarly minds, strong characters, and a real religious experience."

Preliminary correspondence concerning admission to the College is invited, and should be addressed to the President, who will be glad to advise with candidates regarding their preparatory course. Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class shall make application on a blank which will be furnished on request. (See page 81). It is well to make application two or three years in advance, as the number of students accepted is strictly limited by the present dormitory space.

Each candidate shall also present a certificate of character from the principal of the school last attended. Principals are requested to write fully as to the character, habits, and ability of applicants. Such statements, as well as other pertinent information which may be sought by the College, will have due weight in determining the admission of candidates.

The subjects which may be presented for admission are divided into two groups in accordance with the following table. The figures given represent "units" according to the system of the Carnegie Foundation.*

Group I (required of all candidates):

English A English B														3
Mathematics A Mathematics A
Mathematics Cone History.	,												i.	1

&quot;'A unit represents a year's study in any subject in a secondary school, constituting approximately a quarter of a full year's work. A four years' secondary school curriculum should be regarded as representing not more than sixteen units of work."

Group II (elective):
Latin 1 1
Latin 2 or 6 1
Latin 3* 2
Latin 4 1
Latin 5 1
Elementary Greek (Greek A and B or Greek Cp2)
Advanced Greek (Greek C, F and H) 1
German A (Cp2)
German B 1
French A (Cp2)
French B 1
Spanish A (Cp2)
Botany1
Chemistry 1
Histories, each
Physics
Physiology
Bible 1
Mathematics D $\frac{1}{2}$
Mathematics F $\frac{1}{2}$
Every student must present for admission subjects having a total value of 15 units, arranged as follows:
For the A.B. degree:
All subjects in Group I
Latin 1, 2 (or 6), 4, 5 4
(Or Greek, 3 units)
Other subjects from Group II (including one language)
(Or, with Greek, 5 units)
(01) HIVE GROUND WILLIAM

 $^{\ast}$  Latin 3 must be taken by those who offer only 2 units in Latin and may be taken by no others.

For the S.B. degree:

All subjects in Group I	7
Subjects from Group II (including at least four units in the languages)	8

The candidate may give evidence of his preparation in these requirements by either of the following plans for admission:

I. By Examination only. The candidate must take entrance examinations in all the subjects which he presents for admission. He may take examinations in any of these subjects as preliminary examinations a full year or more before he intends to enter college, but for preliminary examinations only those of the College Entrance Examination Board are accepted. The examinations taken may be either the ordinary examinations or the equivalent comprehensive examinations.

Students unable to pass all the examinations may be admitted with a few conditions. Each case will be decided on its merits.

II. By both Examination and Certificate. This system may be employed by school graduates only. The graduate must present, on blanks supplied by the College and signed by the principal of the school which he has attended, a complete record of his work on all subjects during the last four years of preparation, with the time spent and the grade received in each study. This work is expected to include the subjects with a total value of 15 units prescribed on the preceding page.

He must also take entrance examinations in three subjects—English, Mathematics, and one foreign language. The English will be the examination defined as English

B. The mathematics will be both Mathematics A2 and Mathematics C. The language required will be, for the A.B. degree, either Latin 2, 4, 5 or Elementary and Advanced Greek; for the S.B. degree, Latin 3 or Elementary Greek or German A or French A or Spanish A. In June, at the option of the candidate, comprehensive examinations may be substituted entirely or in part for the ordinary examinations: For English B, English Cp; for Mathematics A2 and Mathematics C. Mathematics Cp3; for Latin 2, 4, 5, Latin Cp4; for Elementary and Advanced Greek, Greek Cp3; for Latin 3, Latin Cp2; for Elementary Greek, Greek Cp2; for German A. German Cp2; for French A, French Cp2; for Spanish A, Spanish Cp2. As Mathematics A2 and Mathematics C are combined in one comprehensive examination three comprehensive examinations may thus be taken instead of the four ordinary examinations. These examinations must all be taken and passed at one time either in June or September.

On the basis of his certificate and his marks in these examinations the applicant will be either admitted without conditions or rejected with permission to apply again for admission according to either plan.

This plan is intended mainly for good students, who, deciding late in their school courses to enter Haverford, would find it difficult to prepare themselves for examination in all their entrance subjects, but could readily pass a good examination in three fundamental subjects of their school course and present a satisfactory certificate for all of it. Candidates of only average ability and those who can take preliminary examinations in regular order will gain nothing by adopting this plan.

Advanced Standing.—On account of limited accommodations it is usually impossible to admit students to other than the Freshman class.

SCHEDULE OF EXAMINATIONS FOR ADMISSION

Applicants for admission to the Freshman Class are expected to take the examinations held by the College Entrance Examination Board in June in many cities. Those who pass these examinations in June will receive first consideration for all Freshman scholarships and for the limited accommodations annually reserved for Freshmen. For information with regard to these examinations address The College Entrance Examination Board, 431 West 117th Street, New York City.

College Entrance Examination Board Examinations, June 19–24, 1922

The application for examination must be addressed to the College Entrance Examination Board, 431 West 117th Street, New York City. It must be made upon a blank form to be obtained from the Secretary of the Board upon request.

The examination fee for 1922 will be $9.00 for candidates examined in the United States and Canada, if the application is received sufficiently early. The fee, which must accompany the application, should be remitted by postal order, express order, or draft on New York to the order of the College Entrance Examination Board.

Applications and fees of candidates who wish to be examined outside of the United States and Canada must reach the Secretary of the Board at least six weeks in advance of the first day of the examinations, that is, on or before May 8, 1922. In such cases the fee is $20.00.

Applications and fees of candidates who wish to be examined in the United States at points west of the Mississippi River, or in Canada, must be received at least four weeks in advance of the first day of the examinations, that is, on or before May 22, 1922.

Applications and fees of candidates who wish to be examined in the United States at points east of the Mississippi River or on the Mississippi River must be received at least three weeks in advance of the first day of the examination, that is, on or before Monday, May 29, 1922.

When the candidate has failed to obtain the required blank form of application for examination, the usual examination fee will be accepted if the fee arrive not later than the specified date accompanied by a memorandum containing the name and address of the candidate, the exact examination center selected, and a list of all the subjects in which he may have occasion to take the Board examinations.

Applications received later than the dates named will be accepted when it is possible to arrange for the admission of the candidates concerned, but only upon the payment of an additional fee.

Detailed definitions of the requirements in all examination subjects are given in a circular of information published annually by the Board. The edition published August 1, 1921, is designated as Document No. 101. Upon request a single copy of this document will be sent to any teacher without charge. In general, a charge of twenty cents, which may be remitted in postage, will be made.

A list of the places at which the examinations are to be held by the Board in June, 1922, will be published about March 1. Requests that the examinations be held at particular points, to receive proper consideration, should be transmitted to the Secretary of the Board not later than February 1.

HAVERFORD EXAMINATIONS

Special Haverford examinations are held in September at the College for the convenience of emergency cases. They may not be taken as preliminary examinations. No applicant should deliberately postpone his examination until September, as no assurance can be given that he will be admitted if the capacity of the College has already been reached.

Applicants from the public high schools of New York State may also be admitted upon presentation of satisfactory credits certified by the Regents of the State of New York; but the class entering in September, 1923, will be the last to which this privilege is extended.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION IN THE SEVERAL SUBJECTS ENGLISH *

The requirement in English is that recommended by the National Conference on Uniform Entrance Requirements in English.

REQUIREMENT FOR 1920-1922 †

The study of English in school has two main objects, which should be considered of equal importance: (1) command of correct and clear English, spoken and written; (2) ability to read with accuracy, intelligence, and appreciation, and the development of the habit of reading good literature with enjoyment.

† The requirement for 1923-1925 differs considerably from that given here. The documents issued by the College Entrance Examination Board should be consulted by those interested.

Grammar and Composition.

The first object requires instruction in grammar and composition. English grammar should ordinarily be reviewed in the secondary school; and correct spelling and grammatical accuracy should be rigorously exacted in connection with all written work during the four years. The principles of English composition governing punctuation. the use of words, sentences, and paragraphs should be thoroughly mastered; and practice in composition, oral as well as written, should extend throughout the secondary school period. Written exercises may well comprise letterwriting, narration, description, and easy exposition and argument. It is advisable that subjects for this work be taken from the student's personal experience, general knowledge, and studies other than English, as well as from his reading in literature. Finally, special instructions in language and composition should be accompanied by concerted effort of teachers in all branches to cultivate in the student the habit of using good English in his recitations and various exercises, whether oral or written.

Literature.

The second object is sought by means of the reading and study of a number of books from which may be framed a progressive course in literature. The student should be trained in reading aloud and should be encouraged to commit to memory notable passages both in verse and in prose. As an aid to literary appreciation, he is further advised to acquaint himself with the most important facts in the lives of the authors whose works he reads, and with their place in literary history. He should read the books carefully, but his attention should not be so fixed upon details that he fails to appreciate the main purpose and charm of what he reads.

A few of these books should be read with special care, greater stress being laid upon form and style, the exact meaning of words and phrases, and the understanding of allusions.

Examination, 1920–1922

However accurate in subject-matter, no paper will be considered satisfactory if seriously defective in punctuation, spelling, or other essentials of good usage.

Grammar and Composition.

In grammar and composition, the candidate may be asked specific questions upon the practical essentials of these studies, such as the relation of the various parts of a sentence to one another, and those good usages of modern English which one should know in distinction from current errors. The main test in composition will consist of one or more essays developing a theme through several paragraphs; the subjects will be drawn from the books read, from the candidate's other studies, and from his personal knowledge and experience quite apart from reading. For this purpose the examiner will provide several subjects, perhaps eight or ten, from which the candidate may make his own selections. He will not be expected to write more than four hundred words an hour.

Literature.

The examination will include:

- A. Questions designed to test such knowledge and appreciation of literature as may be gained by an intelligent reading of the books given in List A below.
- B. A test on the books in List B below. This will consist of questions upon their content, form, and structure, and upon the meaning of such words, phrases, and allusions as may be necessary to an understanding of the works and an appreciation of their salient qualities of style. General questions may also be asked concerning the lives of the authors, their other works, and the periods of literary history to which they belong.

Division of Examination.

When parts A and B of the examination are taken at different times, each will include a test in grammar and composition.

LIST OF BOOKS, 1920-1922

THE COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATION IN ENGLISH

The purpose of this examination will be to test the ability of the candidate to define clearly, in writing, ideas gained both from books and from the life around him. and to read with accuracy and appreciation literature as varied in subject matter and form as that listed under "Uniform Entrance Requirements in English." Accuracy in the technique of writing will be insisted upon, but no paper will be considered satisfactory which does not show. in addition to this accuracy, that the student is able to think for himself and to apply what he has learned to the solution of unexpected problems. Although knowledge of the subject matter of the particular books prescribed in the "Uniform Entrance Requirements in English" is not necessary, yet the requisite ability cannot be gained without a systematic and progressive study of good literature.

A candidate for admission to Haverford "by examination only" (see above, p. 18) is required to take the examinations designated as English A and English B, as given by the College Entrance Examination Board or by Haverford College.

A candidate whose certificate entitles him to apply for admission "by both examination and certificate" (see above, p. 18) may take either English B or the Comprehensive Examination in English. The latter is given only by the College Entrance Examination Board; while difficult, it does offer certain advantages to one whose study of literature has not been based on the books listed for special study in English B.

MATHEMATICS

The definition of the requirements in Mathematics is the same as that of the College Entrance Examination Board.

In each subject stress will be laid upon accuracy and neatness of work. Results should be verified.

Mathematics A1—Algebra: to Quadratics.

The four fundamental operations for rational algebraic expressions.

Factoring, determination of highest common factor and lowest common multiple by factoring.

Fractions, including complex fractions, and ratio and proportion.

Linear equations, both numerical and literal, containing one or more unknown quantities.

Problems depending on linear equations.

Radicals, including the extraction of the square root of polynomials and of numbers.

Exponents, including the fractional and negative.

Mathematics A2-Algebra: Quadratics and beyond.

Quadratic equations, both numerical and literal.

Problems depending on quadratic equations.

The binomial theorem for positive integral exponents.

The formulas for the *n*th term and the sum of the terms of arithmetical and geometrical progressions, with applications.

It is assumed that pupils will be required throughout the course to solve numerous problems which involve putting questions into equations. Some of these problems should be chosen from mensuration, from physics, and from commercial affairs. The use of graphical methods and illustrations, particularly in connection with the solution of equations, is also expected.

Mathematics C—Plane Geometry.

The usual theorems and constructions of good textbooks, including the general properties of plane rectilinear figures; the circle and the measurement of angles; similar polygons; areas; regular polygons and the measurement of the circle.

The solution of numerous original exercises, including problems in loci.

Applications to the mensuration of lines and plane surfaces.

Mathematics D—Solid Geometry.

The usual theorems and constructions of good textbooks, including the relation of planes and lines in space; the properties and measurement of prisms, pyramids, cylinders, and cones; the sphere and the spherical triangle.

The solution of numerous original exercises, including problems in loci.

Application to the mensuration of surface and solids.

Mathematics F—Plane Trigonometry.

  - C. Modern History.
  - D. English History.
  - E. American History.
  - G. American History and Civil Government.

Each of the above subjects is intended to represent one year of historical work wherein the study is given five times a week, or two years of historical work wherein the study is given three times a week.

The work should include the use of good text-books, collateral reading, practice in written work, and in locating places and movements on outline maps. The candidate should be trained in comparison and in the use of judgment as well as in the use of memory.

III. SUBJECTS FOR EXAMINATION

(a) Exclusively for those who offer only 2 units in Latin.

The 2 units may be offered in no other way.

Second Year Latin (Latin 3). This examination will presuppose reading not less in amount than Cæsar, Gallic War, I-IV, selected by the schools from Cæsar (Gallic War and Civil War), and Nepos (Lives); but the passages set will be chosen with a view to sight translation. The paper will include easy grammatical questions and some simple composition.

(b) For those who offer 4 units in Latin (or 3 units, if the Vergil or Cicero be omitted).

Grammar (Latin 1).

Elementary Prose Composition (Latin 2) or Advanced Prose Composition (Latin 6).

Cicero and Sight Translation of Prose (Latin 4).

Vergil and Sight Translation of Poetry (Latin 5).

In Latin 1, 2, 4, and 6, the examination will presuppose the reading of the required amount of prose (see I, 1 and 2), including the prose works prescribed (see II, 2); the examination in Latin 5 will presuppose the reading of the required amount of poetry, including the poetical works prescribed.

GREEK

Elementary Greek, admitting to Greek 1.

Candidates should have read in preparation not less than three hundred pages of modern German, including reading at sight, from the works of at least three different authors.

German B, admitting to German 2. A more thorough knowledge of grammar, vocabulary and idiom than that required for German A, enabling the candidate to read at sight more difficult prose as well as poetry, and to translate into German a number of English sentences or a piece of connected prose requiring both appreciation of the English idiom and knowledge of the corresponding German idiom. The work done in German 1 (see page 45) will be considered adequate for preparation.

Students presenting themselves for examination in German B will not be given credit for it unless they pass also the examination in German A.

Students who fail in the examination in German A will not be allowed to enter German 1 without special permission of the instructor; students who fail in the examination in German B will not be permitted to present themselves for re-examination in German B if they have taken German in college.

FRENCH

French A, admitting to French 1. (a) Proficiency in elementary grammar including the more common irregular verbs. (b) Ability to translate simple French prose and to put into French short sentences requiring a knowledge of the simpler idioms. Candidates should have read in preparation not less than three hundred pages, including reading at sight, from the works of at least three different authors.

French B, admitting to French 2. (a) Thorough knowledge of the fundamentals of grammar. (b) Ability to translate ordinary French of the nineteenth century. (c) Command of idiom sufficient to put into French a connected passage of simple English prose. As preparation an equivalent of the work done in French 1 (see page 46) is adequate.

Students who have presented themselves for examination in French B will not be given credit for it unless they have passed also the examination in French A.

SPANISH

Two examinations, Spanish A and Spanish B, are offered, and the requirements are identical with those given above for French A and French B.

BOTANY

The requirement will be one year's text-book and laboratory work. The student will be expected to have a fairly definite knowledge of the seed and seedling, root, stem, and leaf, the flower and fruit, the cell, and the natural history and classification of plants.

CHEMISTRY

The requirements in chemistry will comprehend systematic instruction in the occurrence, preparation, properties and uses of some of the commoner elements, including hydrogen, oxygen, carbon, chlorine, sulfur and nitrogen, and their compounds, together with an adequate course of experiments performed by the student.

PHYSICS

The requirement will be one year's work, covering mechanics, sound, heat, light, magnetism, and electricity. Emphasis will be laid upon the solution of problems. At least two hours per week of laboratory work must be included.

PHYSIOLOGY

The requirement will be one year's work, and will cover the general principles of the subject; functional activity of muscular, nervous, epithelial, and connective tissues; the digestive, circulatory, and respiratory systems, and the special senses.

BIBLE

The requirement in Biblical subjects is in accord with the recommendations of The Commission on the Definition of a Unit of Bible Study for Secondary Schools, and gives an option of three types of courses, each the equivalent of four hours of recitation per week for twenty weeks, any two of which may be offered as a minimum requirement. These may be described briefly as:

I. A course comparable as to method with courses in English Literature followed with students of the same grade which shall cover sixty narrative and poetic passages in the Old Testament as specified.

II and III. Courses comparable as to method with courses in European and American history followed with students of the same grade in the political, social, and cultural development of the Hebrew people from 1200 B. C. to 70 A. D., or, The development of Christianity from the reign of Augustus to the persecution of Christianity under Domitian.

COURSE OF STUDY

The course of study includes both required and elective subjects, thus combining the breadth of knowledge and culture that comes from variety of studies with opportunity for concentration on limited fields. In addition to a general course in arts or in science, by proper choice of electives more specialized courses can be taken in mechanical engineering, in electrical engineering, or in the preparatory work required for admission to medical schools.

REQUIREMENTS

COURSE OF STUDY

Freshman and Sophomore years. Either Latin 2 or Greek 1 must be completed for the A.B. degree. Candidates for the S.B. degree must continue either French or German through both Freshman and Sophomore years. English D is required as an extra course of Sophomores whose work in composition for English 1 falls below a certain standard.

Candidates for the A.B. degree must take one course from the group biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics after Freshman year. Candidates for the S.B. degree must take two courses from the group biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics after Freshman year.

Economics, History, Biblical Literature, Psychology and Ethics. The required courses in these subjects are specified on page 38.

Majors and Minors. In order to encourage proper concentration it is required that after Freshman year at least three full courses be taken in one department and at least two full courses in each of two other departments. The three courses must be distributed over at least two years. In fulfilment of this requirement no account shall be taken of courses intended primarily for Freshmen (namely, Biology 1a, Engineering 1 and 1', English 1, French A, German A, Mathematics 1 and 1', Physics A) even though these courses be taken after Freshman year.

Maximum and Minimum Schedule. The minimum schedule for any student is five courses, except that, in addition, Sophomores are required to take Physical Training and Freshmen are required to take Physical Training and Biology 1a. Not more than one additional course may be taken in any half-year, except by special permission of the Dean.

Conflicting Courses. A student is not allowed to elect conflicting courses, except with the permission of the Dean and the two instructors concerned.

Engineering

The engineering courses are designed to give a thorough training in fundamental engineering principles and as far as practicable to illustrate the application of these principles to their associated industries.

Exceptional facilities for observing the practical side of the work are offered by the many manufacturing companies in and near Philadelphia, and frequent inspection trips are made.

The lack of a general or broad education as well as the lack of thoroughness in fundamentals has been quite universally recognized as limiting the usefulness and opportunities of many in the engineering profession. To provide against these deficiencies, students electing courses in engineering will be required to pursue studies of a general nature (history, ethics, economics, languages, etc.) throughout the four years, and to concentrate largely on mathematics, physics, and chemistry, the fundamentals of all engineering. This combination of breadth with thorough groundwork prepares the way for the highest professional development.

A proper selection of electives from the several departments will meet the requirements of varied prospective future careers. As the combinations are numerous, no attempt has been made to outline the several possible courses, but in each case students are counseled as regards their individual needs in arranging their programs of study.

Past results have shown this combination of required and elective studies to be most satisfactory as regards professional advancement. However, for the needs of those desiring still more advanced technical courses before entering the active work of the profession, very favorable arrangements may be made with technical institutions, all of which grant substantial credit toward advanced standing for work completed at Haverford.

The wood-working and metal-working shops, the laboratory for testing materials and the draughting-room are housed in Whitall Hall. A complete equipment is provided for carrying on bench and machine-tool work in both wood and metal. Steam-engine indicators, standard pressure gauges, calorimeters and electrical measuring-instruments, in connection with the central heating and lighting plant, afford good opportunity for the testing of boilers, engines, air-compressors, dynamos and auxiliaries. A 30,000-pound Riehlé screw testing-machine is part of the equipment for testing materials and for studying the laws of stress and strain. The equipment of the draughting-room includes a number of pieces for study and sketching, such as pumps, safety-valves, shaft-hangers, etc.

The electrical engineering laboratory occupies the first floor of the west wing of Founders Hall. The apparatus in this laboratory was selected to illustrate the modern applications as well as the fundamental principles. This includes many types of generators and motors, both alternating and direct; a complete line of measuring instruments; arc and incandescent lamps; galvanometers; bridges, standards, etc. Direct and alternating currents of all necessary varieties are available for tests and calibrations.

LIBRARY

The College Library now contains about eighty-seven thousand volumes, besides numerous classified but uncatalogued pamphlets. It has been selected and arranged with the object of making it especially useful to college professors and students. All have free access to the shelves and are permitted to withdraw from the Library any volume except those reserved for special reasons. The Librarian and assistants will do anything they can to help readers to use the Library intelligently and independently.

About six thousand dollars is expended yearly for the purchase of books and periodicals. The Library is a regular government depository and receives from other sources many substantial gifts and bequests.

The collection of Quaker literature is probably the most complete in America. The William H. Jenks collection of Friends' tracts, mostly of the seventeenth century, numbers about fifteen hundred separately bound titles.

The Library possesses the fine Harris collection of over sixty Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Arabic, Syriac and Ethiopic manuscripts collected by J. Rendel Harris; a collection of more than four hundred Babylonian clay tablets dating from B. C. 2500; and seven hundred reproductions in fictile ivory of ancient and medieval carved ivories.

Over two hundred literary and scientific periodicals are taken, besides many annual reports, year-books and irregular continuations.

The Library is open, with some exceptions, on week days from 8.30 A. M. to 10 P. M., and on Sundays from 3 to 6 P. M. While designed especially for the use of the officers and students, it affords to others the privilege of consulting and, under certain restrictions, of withdrawing books.

THE CHARLES ROBERTS AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION

This autograph collection, formed by the late Charles Roberts, of Philadelphia, a graduate (1864) and for many years a Manager of the College, was in 1902 presented to the College by his wife, Lucy B. Roberts. It consists of more than 11,000 items, embracing not only autograph letters of European and American authors, statesmen, scientists, ecclesiastics, monarchs, and others, but also several series of valuable papers. The whole collection, covering as it does the period beginning with the late fifteenth century and coming down to the present day, is one of unusual historical and literary interest.

It has been housed in a fireproof room, and a careful card catalogue has been prepared. The collection is open for inspection or research on application to the curator.

GRADING OF STUDENTS

In determining the standing of the student, daily recitations, hour examinations, and final examinations are all employed. The grades attained by students in their college courses are indicated on reports, issued quarterly, by the five letters, A, B, C, D, E. A indicates a grade from 90 to 100, inclusive; B from 80, inclusive, to 90; C* from 70, inclusive, to 80; D* from 60, inclusive, to 70, and E indicates a failure. The numerical grades are not published. No student is permitted to graduate if his combined average for the Junior and Senior years is below C.

HONORS

Honors are awarded for excellence in the studies of single departments. They are never given merely for performance of routine work in courses, but a considerable amount of extra work is demanded in every case.

Honors are of three kinds:

(a) Honorable Mention, to be awarded for work in a single course meeting not less than two hours per week throughout the year, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 75 hours. Candidates for Honorable Mention must obtain the grade of A in the regular work of the course and pass creditably an examination on the additional work required. Two half-courses in the same department may be construed as a single course. Honorable Mention will be awarded for work in History 2a, or Economics 1b, provided the foregoing requirements as to grade and additional work are satisfied. History 2a may be counted as a full course for Preliminary Honors taken at the end of the Sophomore year.

- (b) Preliminary Honors, to be awarded at the end of the Sophomore, Junior, or Senior year for not less than two full courses in a single department, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 150 hours. Candidates for Preliminary Honors must obtain a grade of at least B in all courses required for such honors (see page 78) and a grade of A in such of these courses as are taken in the year in which they are candidates, and must pass creditably examinations on the additional work required.
- (c) Final Honors, to be awarded upon graduation for work in the courses of a single department, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 250 hours. Candidates for Final Honors must take at least four full courses in the department in which they apply for honors, at least two of these courses being in the Junior and Senior years. They must in all of these courses obtain a grade of at least B and in those taken in the Senior year a grade of A, and must pass creditably examinations on the additional work required. There are three grades of final Honors: Honors, High Honors, and Highest Honors. The requirements for High Honors are of a more exacting nature than those for Honors, and Highest Honors are reserved for very exceptional cases. Both High Honors and Highest Honors are awarded only by special vote of the Faculty.

A student who has received the prescribed grade in the regular work of a course required for honors, but who has not done the additional work required in connection with such course, may, with the consent of the professor in charge, make up his deficiency in a later year, but in the case of Final Honors all such deficiencies must be made up by the end of the Junior year.

At the time of the award of Honors there shall be added to the general average for the year of each student receiving Honors, one-half of one per cent for each award of Honorable Mention, Preliminary Honors, or Final Honors. In any given year only one such addition may be made to a student's grade for work in any one subject.

DEFICIENT STUDENTS

Special opportunities for the removal of entrance conditions will be given in January and September.

Opportunities for the removal of first half-year conditions will be given in April and September.

Opportunities for the removal of second half-year conditions will be given in September and January.

Conditions in required courses should be removed at the first regular re-examination period after failure; if not then removed a fee of five dollars will be charged against the student at the next regular re-examination period, whether or not the make-up examination be actually taken. A student who has failed to remove a condition in a required course before that course is again offered shall repeat the course; an elective course may be repeated with the consent of the instructor. No course may be repeated more than once; failure to pass a repeated required course will thus prevent the student from obtaining his degree. For any course begun and either dropped after two weeks, or not passed at the regular examination or at the two succeeding make-up examinations, the student will be charged a fee of five dollars per half-year hour, whether the course be repeated or not. In case of conflict the repeated course shall take precedence over all other courses.

A student who is repeating a course, or who is deficient in class standing in excess of two half courses or who is carrying an entrance condition after the Freshman year, shall have his name appear in the student list of the current catalogue with an asterisk (*) to indicate that he is not in full class standing.

Any student whose record is such as to justify the belief that he is not availing himself of the opportunities offered by Haverford College may be dropped. Usually a student who has more than two half courses of failures against him at the opening of College in September will be dropped.

DEGREES

BACHELOR OF ARTS AND BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

Students who have received credit for the full number of courses in prescribed and elective studies, provided they have for the Junior and Senior years a combined average of C, or above, are granted the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. For the difference in the requirements for the two degrees see page 36. The fee for the Bachelor's degree is fifteen dollars.

MASTER OF ARTS AND MASTER OF SCIENCE

Resident graduates who have received the Bachelor's degree from Haverford College or from an institution of equivalent standing may be admitted as candidates for the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science. Such students must submit, in writing, for the approval of their instructors and the Faculty Committee on Advanced Degrees, a plan of study involving the equivalent of twelve hours a week in advanced courses. This shall be supplemented by additional intensive work equivalent to a three-hour course, which shall be distributed in a manner to be approved by the committee, or, at the option of the instructors concerned, by a thesis. This plan shall be filed with the Registrar before October 15th of the year in which the student begins work for the degree. No course shall be credited towards the Master's degree in which the grade attained is lower than B. The fee for the degree is twenty dollars.

ROOMS

Entering Freshmen may choose rooms in the order in which their application blanks for admission (see page 16) are received. For this choice a day is appointed, of which due notice is given in advance. Ten of the $525 rooms are regularly reserved as a part of the apportionment for Freshmen. The choice of rooms by other students is governed by published rules.

A deposit of $15 is required of all students, old and new, before a room is reserved. In case the student occupies the room, the amount will be deducted from his bill for the following year; otherwise it will be forfeited.

EXPENSES

The combined charge for tuition ($200), board ($250), and room-rent ($75 to $250, according to location), varies from $525 to $700 a year. This includes heat, electric light, attendance and the use of necessary bedroom furniture, i. e., a chiffonier and a bed, the linen for which is furnished and laundered by the College for an annual fee of five dollars. Students will supply their own study furniture. In general two students share one study and each has his private bedroom adjoining. A few single rooms are also available. The number of students accommodated in the different halls is as follows:

Merion Hall. 9 at $525 each Merion Hall. 4 at $550 each Merion Hall. 22 at $575 each 14 at $525 each Founders Hall. 10 at $550 each Founders Hall, Founders Hall. 1 at $575 Founders Hall. 2 at $600 each Founders Hall. 2 at $625 each Barclay Hall, 22 at $525 each Barclay Hall. 2 at $550 each

Barclay Hall,	4 at $575 each
Barclay Hall,	24 at $600 each
Barclay Hall,	50 at $625 each
Barclay Hall,	1 at $650
Lloyd Hall,	44 at $700 each

The charge for tuition of day-students is $200 a year; for tuition and mid-day meal, $280 a year. For additional fees, see pages 79 and 80.

An annual infirmary fee of seven dollars is charged to all students living at the College. A laboratory fee (averaging ten dollars) and a bill for materials consumed and for breakage is charged in each of the laboratories. An annual gymnasium fee of two dollars is charged for supplying and laundering towels. An annual fee of two dollars is charged to all students for the privileges of the Haverford Union (see below). Books and stationery will, at the option of the student, be supplied by the College and charged on the half-yearly bills.

First term bills, for three-fifths of the student's total cash indebtedness for room, board, and tuition for the year, are rendered October first and must be paid before November first. Second term bills are rendered February first and must be paid before March first. Failure to pay within the specified time automatically cancels the student's registration.

A student is held financially responsible for any damage to his room.

THE HAVERFORD UNION

The Haverford Union is a large and attractive building supplied with reading rooms, recreation rooms, sleeping rooms for visiting alumni, and a large assembly hall.

THE MORRIS INFIRMARY

The Morris Infirmary, presented by John T. Morris, '67, has been in operation since the fall of 1912. It contains ten beds, a surgical room, an isolation ward for contagious diseases, and accommodations for physician and nurse. Every provision has been made for both residence and dispensary care of all student conditions, medical and surgical, occurring during the college year. Prompt relief is thus afforded from the dangers of infection through illness in the college dormitories.

Except for the infirmary fee mentioned above, the attendance of the regular nurse is free to students. Medical attendance for brief ailments is also given, free of charge, by the college physician.

SCHOLARSHIPS

All preliminary correspondence concerning scholarships should be addressed to the President of the College.

- I. Corporation Scholarships. Sixteen scholarships of the annual value of $300 each, awarded without application to the four students in each class who have the highest average scholarship. This is determined in the case of upper classmen from their general average for the year. All scholarships are given for one year only, but, with the exception of II, they may be renewed by the College if the conduct and standing of the recipient be satisfactory.

The Senior Foundation Scholarships will thus be vacated yearly, and about one-fourth of the others.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The following regulations will govern the grant of scholarships:

- 1. No scholarship will be given to a student who has conditions.
- 2. No scholarship will be given to a student who is in debt to the College.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

In connection with the Dean's office there is an Employment Bureau through which students may be put in touch with many kinds of remunerative employment. Each year some men are able to make enough money to pay all their college expenses. During the past year thirty-seven students earned $4280 in eighteen different occupations.

FELLOWSHIPS

The Clementine Cope Fellowship, of the annual value of $500, may be awarded by the Faculty to the best qualified applicant from the Senior Class. He is required to spend the succeeding year in study at some American or foreign university approved by the Faculty.

Teaching Fellowships. Two fellowships of $300 each, involving certain duties at Haverford College, are offered yearly to Haverford College graduates, on the Clementine Cope Fellowship Foundation. They are construed to cover all the charges for tuition, room, and board.

PRIZES

All prizes awarded in books are marked with appropriate bookplates. As soon as possible after the award a list of standard books, from which selection is to be made, should be submitted for approval to the head of the department awarding the prize. Books selected from the approved list may then be ordered through the College Office. The College grants an average discount of ten per cent on prize books and supplies and affixes the bookplates.

Haverford College Athletics

1921 - 1922

Edited in the Interest of Haverford

FOREWORD

The athletic situation at Haverford is still transitional although there has never been a more general participation in athletic sports than during the past year.

Perhaps the three most successful features of the year have been the general athletic development under Coach Haddleton, the reconstruction of the college athletic constitution and the development of a real authoritative athletic direction under the executive committee of nine.

The result of the athletic development has been a really successful track season with two important victories and a close Swarthmore contest. In developing these athletics the Freshman indoor and track meets were held with various schools in the neighborhood, one direct result being the breaking of a college record by H. Montgomery in the Javelin. An interesting event of the year was the holding of the Interacademic Athletic Championship on Walton Field on May 26th, by invitation from the college.

The cricket field has resumed much of its old time attractiveness in college life under the tutelage of President Comfort and Professor Hinchman.

Under Coach Harmon spring football practice was instituted and we expect much from his work in the fall.

The athletic situation is improving, though slowly and we ask the continued patience of our loyal Alumni. The editor would express his appreciation for the help rendered by the captains and managers of the various teams in collaborating the athletic results of the year.

JAMES A. BABBITT.
